INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff MARK CLIFFORD SYKES ("Plaintiff"), proceeding in Suit Juris and relying in good faith upon legal advice received, respectfully presents this Opposition to Defendants' Emergency Motion to Dismiss and their associated Emergency Motion for Shortened Time. Defendants' request for dismissal and expedited consideration is procedurally defective, substantively unwarranted, and contrary to the strong judicial preference for resolving cases on their merits. For the reasons stated herein, Plaintiff respectfully requests the Court DENY Defendants' Emergency Motion to Dismiss and deny the request for Emergency Shortened Time consideration.

STATEMENT OF RELEVANT FACTS

1. On March 5, 2025, Plaintiff was directed by attorney Ariel E. Mitchell not to attend the scheduled deposition. (See Exhibit 1).
2. Plaintiff reasonably and in good faith relied on Ms. Mitchell's directive.

3. On April 2, 2025, Ms. Mitchell confirmed that she had not formally entered into an engagement agreement with Plaintiff. (See Exhibit 2).
4. Plaintiff has no knowledge of any communications made by Ms. Mitchell to defense counsel and has not received forwarded communications. See...DECLARATION OF MARK CLIFFORD SYKES" which is hereby incorporated by reference as Exhibit 3.
5. Plaintiff has diligently pursued this case and consistently complied with his obligations.

LEGAL ARGUMENT

I. DEFENDANTS' REQUEST FOR EMERGENCY RELIEF IS PROCEDURALLY AND SUBSTANTIVELY DEFECTIVE.

Emergency motions are reserved for circumstances where immediate action is necessary to prevent irreparable harm. Defendants have not demonstrated any genuine emergency justifying expedited relief. Mere inconvenience or additional cost associated with rescheduling a deposition does not meet the high standard for emergency relief.

II. DISMISSAL IS RESERVED FOR EXTREME, WILLFUL, BAD-FAITH CONDUCT, WHICH IS NOT PRESENT HERE.

Dismissal under Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(b) is an extreme sanction reserved only for "willfulness, bad faith, or fault." Henry v. Gill Indus., Inc., 983 F.2d 943, 946 (9th Cir. 1993). Plaintiff relied on legal instruction in good faith and at no time willfully or deliberately disobeyed any Court order or discovery obligation.

III. PLAINTIFF'S RELIANCE ON COUNSEL CONSTITUTES "EXCUSABLE NEGLECT" UNDER PIONEER.

Reliance upon the advice of legal counsel, even absent a formal representation agreement, constitutes "excusable neglect" sufficient to excuse procedural missteps. Pioneer Inv. Servs. Co. v. Brunswick Assocs. Ltd. P'ship, 507 U.S. 380, 392 (1993). Plaintiff's reliance was reasonable and excusable.

IV. DEFENDANTS' FAILURE TO FILE A MOTION TO COMPEL PRECLUDES DISMISSAL.

Before seeking dismissal, Defendants were obligated to first file a Motion to Compel under Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(a). Defendants' failure to pursue lesser remedies before moving for the harshest sanction renders their motion procedurally defective. Under Valley Engineers Inc. v. Electric Engineering Co., 158 F.3d 1051, 1056 (9th Cir. 1998), dismissal is proper only after lesser sanctions have been considered and found ineffective. Here, Defendants failed to seek a Motion to Compel or request lesser remedies before moving directly for dismissal, the harshest sanction, renders their Emergency Motion fatally premature and procedurally defective.

V. APPLICATION OF THE MALONE FACTORS FAVORS DENIAL OF DISMISSAL.

Applying Malone v. U.S. Postal Serv.*, 833 F.2d 128 (9th Cir. 1987):

- (1) Public interest in expeditious litigation: Minimal, non-prejudicial delay (Plaintiff caused no significant delay).
- (2) Court's docket management: No significant burden on Court resources (No ongoing abuse, no clogging of docket).
- (3) Prejudice to Defendants: Curable by rescheduling Plaintiff's deposition.
- (4) Availability of lesser sanctions: Monetary sanctions, rescheduling, or short discovery extensions suffice.
- (5) Disposition on the merits: Strong public policy preference favors adjudication.

VI. DEFENDANTS' CLAIMS OF PREJUDICE ARE CURABLE, NOT GROUNDS FOR DISMISSAL.

Defendants allege costs and inconvenience, not irreparable prejudice. Preparation costs are foreseeable in litigation and do not justify dismissal. Wanderer v. Johnston*, 910 F.2d 652, 656 (9th Cir. 1990). Under Wanderer v. Johnston, courts must consider whether lesser sanctions than dismissal would be sufficient. Plaintiff respectfully presents that rescheduling the deposition and, if necessary, post-trial cost offsets are fully adequate remedies here, making dismissal inappropriate."

VII. DUE PROCESS DEMANDS CASES BE DECIDED ON THEIR MERITS.

Dismissal would violate Plaintiff's constitutional right of access to the courts. Logan v. Zimmerman Brush Co., 455 U.S. 422, 429 (1982); In keeping with the Ninth Circuit's strong public policy favoring resolution on the merits, as reaffirmed in Eitel v. McCool, 782 F.2d 1470, 1472 (9th Cir. 1986), Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court deny the extreme remedy of dismissal and allow the matter to proceed to full adjudication. Further, Fed. R. Civ. P. 1 mandates that courts administer proceedings to ensure "the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every action."

VIII. ALTERNATIVE SANCTIONS ARE AVAILABLE.

Should the Court deem any sanction appropriate, Plaintiff respectfully proposes rescheduling the deposition or imposing a limited monetary sanction as alternatives to dismissal. That any monetary sanctions awarded, it should be applied after the judgment to end the case and or after trial to offset any monetary judgments awarded to the plaintiff.

IX. REQUEST TO REOPEN DISCOVERY AND EXTEND DEADLINES

In fairness to all parties, Plaintiff respectfully requests:

1. Reopening of discovery for thirty (30) days, through and including June 2, 2025.
2. Extending related deadlines, as set forth in the attached Proposed Order.

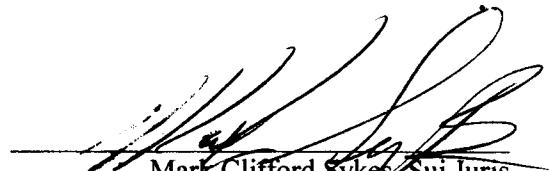

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court DENY Defendants' Emergency Motion to Dismiss and Emergency Motion for Shortened Time, reopen discovery for thirty (30) days, extend related deadlines, and allow this case to proceed on its merits. "Granting Defendants' Motion would unjustly deny Plaintiff his fundamental right to a full and fair adjudication on the merits, in contravention of constitutional guarantees and the orderly administration of justice.”

Dated this 28 day of April, 2025.

Mr. Sykes-

First, we are still looking into this matter to determine if we will engage in representation. You had a deposition scheduled that would not have been to your benefit at that time, which is why I temporarily stepped in. We have not sent you an engagement letter and no formal engagement has commenced.

As you know I am not a licensed attorney in Nevada and require local counsel. Once we decide if and how we can move forward we will be in contact soon.
